READING BOOT CAMP

SATURDAY MORNINGS 9:00 - 12:00 a.m.

designed for children who:

- struggle with reading
- have a defeatist attitude about learning
- complain about or refuse to go to school
- lack confidence in reading

WHAT OUR PROGRAM OFFERS:

- It's BACK TO BASICS – your child will learn and review the basics of decoding letters, syllables, blending and reading words... and then – it will be drill, drill, drill until they nail it!
- Practice – throughout the morning, they will practice the learned skills.
- Reinforcement – there's nothing more rewarding than success itself. Undoubtedly, your child will feel good about learning the basics. BUT, that is not enough to sustain their motivation through the trials and tribulations of decoding and reading an entire book. SO – we reward effort with prizes, and set up a system that you can use to reduce resistance to reading at home.
- Practice – with practice, reading will become more fluent, and high interest books can be attacked. As your child gains proficiency, s/he will begin to enjoy the experience of independent reading. We will be sending your child home to practice reading books that draw upon the skills that are being taught in sessions.
- Fun – we will sandwich the challenge of reading in between a variety of fun activities that are non-academic in nature (arts and crafts, Lego, games) – with the goal of having your child enjoy their morning and want to come back for more.
- Cognitive Behaviour Therapy Group sessions with a Psychologist – there will be three group sessions that are designed to break the barriers of learned helplessness – and conquer the self-defeating 'I CAN'T DO'S'.

TIMES AND DATES

If your child is participating in an activity and they cannot attend all three hours, we will adjust their program accordingly; however, the cost will remain the same.

There are limited spaces; registration is only open until spaces are filled.
